SALES TAX TO BE PUT UP AS SEPARATE BILL

Senate Will Probably Be Given Chance to Say "Yes" or "No"

SMOOT IS AUTHOR

Administration Forces Are Working Against Plan—Expect Bitter Debate

Washington, Sept. 10.—The senate probably will be given an opportunity to say "yes" or "no" on the sales tax when it tackles revenue revision, Senator Smoot Republican of Utah, a member of the senate finance committee, indicated today. It is Smoot's purpose to offer a separate bill embodying his sales tax plan as a substitute for the administration tax bill, other Republican committee members will vote in accordance with Secretary Mellon's suggestions. Smoot first will offer his bill in committee after the administration bill is challenged. It is not anticipated that Senator Penrose, Pennsylvania and other Republican senators backing the administration's tax program, will accept the Smoot bill as a substitute for their own. Smoot then will offer his bill in the senate after the Mellon-Penrose bill is reported. Such a move would probably bring the sales tax issue to a direct test of senatorial support or opposition. That a fight over the sales tax in the senate is inevitable is the opinion of senators on both sides. At present, administration influences are working against the Smoot plan. The administration bill, Penrose and his Republican associates will submit to the senate is considered certain to lead to long and bitter debate. The promise held out earlier by administration leaders for speedy senate action upon revenue revision is declared to run the risk of not being realized. Not only are Democratic senators lining up for a long hard fight against a number of Secretary Mellon's tax proposals, but dissatisfaction with them on the republican side is being openly expected. Even Penrose concedes that the administration bill "will doubtless be modified" in the senate before it is passed. The senate finance committee held another session today to consider tax legislation but the real action is not to come until next week when Penrose intends to force a vote on all points at issue and to rush the completion of the bill he will report to the senate. The disagreement between committee members which has split the Republicans and lined up the Democrats is expected to be reflected in the senate.

TEN THOUSAND ARE KILLED IN CHINA

London, Sept. 10.—Ten thousand casualties have resulted from a four days battle in Hupeh province, China, between armies representing the Peking and south China governments, said a Central News dispatch from Shanghai today.

The fighting centered near Ichang on the Yangtze Kiang river. The northern army is being reinforced. The natives are fleeing fearing a renewal of the of the engagement.

American, British and Japanese bluejackets are guarding foreign property along the Yangtze Kiang river. There has been intermittent fighting between north and south China since the south China republic was set up with the capital at Canton. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, first provisional president of the Chinese republic, was elected president of the south China republic. The southern government claims that the Peking government is dominated by Japan and does not represent the real interests of China.

SEARCH FOR WOMAN BELIEVED DROWNED

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 10. Police here today are attempting to determine whether a woman's hat and purse, found on Prospect Point, near the edge of the waterfalls prove that Beatrice Orr 311 Theodore Street, Cleveland, is dead in the river below the falls.

In a small pocket in the hat was found a note, reading "My name is Beatrice Orr, 311 Theodore Street and Emma D. Orr, Altheimer, Kansas. My sisters are Mrs. Bertha Baines, Cleveland and Mrs. Samantha Moore, Montreal, Canada." It has been reported that a body was seen going over the falls. A woman named Beatrice Orr for lack of funds, had been refused admission to Canada.

Estimates Place Dead High As 1,000 In Floods Which Sweep San Antonio

CHOSEN DELEGATE TO ARMS MEETING WITH THREE OTHERS

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Harding has announced the full American delegation to the disarmament conference. It consists of Secretary of State Hughes, former Secretary of State Elihu Root, Senator Lodge and Senator Underwood, respectively Republican and Democratic floor leaders in the senate. These four will represent America at the table, at which will be gathered four from each other nation represented.

AMERICAN "BIG FOUR" WILL DETERMINE POLICIES OF CONFERENCE AT MEETINGS

Hughes, Root, Lodge and Underwood Will Begin Series Of Meetings To Discuss Matters Soon—Much Work Ahead.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The American "big four"—Secretary of State Hughes, Elihu Root, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Senator Oscar W. Underwood—will soon begin a series of preliminary conferences to determine policies to be pursued in the November armament and far east conference. It was said today. A tremendous amount of preparatory work confronts the American delegation and it is President Harding's expressed wish that the American delegates begin their labors sufficiently early to enable them to approach the conference with a full grasp of all the conditions that are likely to arise. "It is extremely desirable," said a high administration official today, "that the American delegation enter the conference with as much batting practice as possible."

It is the present intention of the administration to limit the personnel of the advisory section to 12 or 15 members, although there is no limit placed on the number. Advice both from England and Japan, for instance indicate that their delegations of advisers and technical experts will run as high as 200.

It is the belief of the administration however the smaller the representation the more smoothly it will function and the tendency is to make the American advisory section one of "quality" instead of quantity. Generally speaking, the advisory section will consist of army and navy experts and representatives of the shipping, business and banking world. Organized labor and women will be recognized with places also. Economical and far east experts will complete the representation. It is regarded as certain that Gen. John J. Pershing will be chief military adviser for this country. No one else in America knows so intimately the power and resources of foreign military establishments. Associated with him will be several of officers closely associated with him in the conduct of the A. E. F., one of whom probably will be Major General James W. McAndrew, chief of staff of the A. F. and now head of the army war college.

There was considerable conjecture today in naval circles as to who would head the list of naval advisers. The names of Rear Admiral Robert E. Koontz, chief of the bureau of operations; Rear Admiral William S. Sims, head of the naval war college; Rear Admiral Hugh Rodman, late commander in chief of the Pacific fleet and Rear Admiral David W. Taylor, chief of the construction bureau were heard in this connection. Admiral Taylor is accounted as certain of a place, for he has long been recognized both in this country and abroad as the world's foremost authority on ship construction and engineering.

The make up of the foreign delegations is not known in Washington. Officials said they had not been officially advised concerning the foreign personnel.

The selection and announcement of the American representatives two months in advance of the date of the conference will give Paris, London and Tokio an opportunity to make their selections with an eye to com-

Lowland Sections of City Inundated Early Saturday After Heavy Rainfall Causes Streams to Overflow Banks—Loss May Reach $5,000,000.

San Antonio, Sept. 10.—At 8:50 o'clock this morning Commander of Police Phil Wright estimated the loss of life in the flood at one thousand and has asked Thomas H. Slavin, chief of staff of the eight corps area, to proclaim martial law in this city. His request will be granted.

No official estimate of the dead can be made for several days, according to Mayor O. B. Black, because of the flooded condition in the lower sections of the town.

Property loss is estimated at $5,000,000.

San Antonio, Texas, Sept. 10.—Fifty people are estimated to have been drowned and property loss estimated at more than $1,000,000 has resulted from floods that inundated large sections of San Antonio early today. Scores of families have been driven away from their homes and bridges in the business district washed away.

All of the lowland sections of the city are inundated by waters overflowing from the San Antonio river and Alazan creek swollen to torrent by a twenty four hour downpour of the rain.

The flood came as a climax of the heaviest rain fall and cloudburst in this part of the country in memory. A total of 7.39 inches of rain fall has been recorded since the first shower two days ago marked the beginning of the deluge.

In less than one half hour from 11:15 until 11:40 o'clock last night a rise of 14 inches was recorded by the gauge in the San Antonio river at St. Marys street bridge.

Water to a depth of eight feet was flowing down River Avenue. Families in the neighborhood of Josephine street and the River sent out a hurried call for aid at 11 o'clock and fleeing from their homes were unable to save furniture or other possessions. Every building in the business district stood in water ten feet deep during the high water mark of the raging waters, while a vast section of the residential section was submerged.

Five bridges spanning the San Antonio river, in the center of the city, were destroyed by the waters. Telephone and telegraph communication, trolley service and electric lights and power were out of commission.

The rise of the river began at 10 o'clock last night. Before citizens realized the danger a wall of water rushed through the streets and the inhabitants were held powerless in their homes.

At 4 o'clock this morning the raging waters had reached their height and began to slowly recede.

Sleeping inhabitants were aroused by the roar of angry waters to find themselves surrounded by the flood. Guests in the three big hotels in the downtown section were marooned on upper floors as the water rose and put elevators and stairs out of commission.

The flood came from an unprecedented rainfall which caused a quick rise in the San Antonio river and Alazan creek.

By 9:30 o'clock this morning relief work was under systematic way and the flood sufferers were being cared for in a number of sections of the city. Boats were at work taking people from homes which had withstood the waters while guards were patrolling the edges of the various areas in undated by the water.

Last night's flood district extends from Brackenridge park, south along the river through the business district. It also extends along the entire lengths of Alazan and San Pedro creeks. Flood waters were five feet deep in Crockett street at 8 o'clock this morning and the flood extended as far up town as Avenue C. West Commerce street was flooded.

Practically every downtown bridge had been rendered unsafe or totally wrecked. The Crockett street bridge is an exception.

Soldiers are patrolling the downtown district to prevent looting. Along Alazan creek three houses were washed away, but a careful investigation by police leads to the belief that all occupants of homes in the flood district escaped.

In the downtown business district merchants called out extra help in removing valuable merchandise from basements and lower floors of the submerged buildings.

One body, that of a Mexican woman, has been taken from the I. and G. N. bridge, the first known victim of the flood.

Police cars at daylight went out Avenue C where pavements were completely torn up for many blocks, plate glass windows were broken, articles of furniture, automobile and auto accessories and every other imaginable thing were scattered pell mell along the thoroughfare.

Street cars were standing where they had been abandoned by their crews.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 10.—Families in the lowlands were rushing from their homes here today to seek safety from the waters of a cloudburst which broke with great fury over this city and surrounding country early today. Over ten inches of water has fallen and the Colorado river is rising in a manner to cause alarm. The M. K. and T. bridge at Pflugerville has been washed out. Creedmore is reported inundated.

The great Austin dam in the Colorado river is being anxiously watched and telephone lines are being kept clear to flash warnings at the first sign of danger.

Scores were reported injured at Pflugerville where a tornado accompanied the rain.

Japan Quotes Terms On Shantung Withdrawal

Outlines Conditions Upon Which She Will Give Up Occupation—Sends Notes to U. S. and Great Britain Explaining Terms.

Tokio, Sept. 9.—(Delayed)—Japan has sent a note to China outlining the basis and conditions upon which Japan will withdraw from the Shantung peninsula and the Chinese government at Peking now has the communication under consideration. It was stated today in authoritative quarters. The Japanese government also has sent notes to the United States and Great Britain explaining the terms upon which Japan promised to leave the Shantung peninsula.

Despite protests from a section of the public the Japanese government is going ahead with its efforts to settle the Yap Island, Shantung and Siberian issues before the disarmament and far east conference opens in Washington in November. Those who are opposed to a preliminary agreement contend that all negotiations should be left to President Harding's conference when all the great powers of the world will be represented.

Many Japanese newspapers treat the subject of preliminary conference with pessimism. They take the view that the questions in dispute "are too troublesome" to attempt to solve prior to the general conference.

Japan and Great Britain are opposed on the subject of a prior meeting, the latter country insisting that it should take place.

The cabinet's choice as leader of the Japanese delegation to the Washington conference has not been revealed, even if there has been a definite selection. In the opinion of many the Japanese delegation should be headed by Admiral Kato, Japanese minister of marine. It is understood that the real choice lies between Admiral Kato and Count Uchida, the foreign minister.

London, Sept. 10.—Eamonn Devalera may protest against the British cabinet's condition that the Sinn Fein enter the proposed peace conference on the basis of admitted allegiance to the British crown. It was learned from an authoritative source today.

The republican cabinet at Dublin has put responsibility for acceptance or rejection of the British offer up to Dail Eireann, which will meet in secret session on Wednesday.

If the British offer is accepted and it is generally believed here that it will be Devalera will nominate the Irish plenipotentiaries but Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein may head the delegation instead of Devalera.

Optimistic news came from Ulster. The police at Belfast have persuaded the Sinn Feiners and Orangemen in that district to agree to a truce and discontinue rioting pending the outcome of the latest peace developments.

ALLIED TROOPS MAY BE SENT TO WEST HUNGARY

Action to Prevent Austro-Hungarian War May Be Taken

NATIONS INVOLVED

"Little Entente" Would Be Forced Into Fuss if War Comes.

London, Sept. 10.—Allied troops may be sent to West Hungary to prevent an Austro-Hungarian war which would involve the "little entente" it was reliably reported today.

Hungary has sent a communication to the allies, which instead of ameliorating the situation has added to the new war menace on the Danube. "The Hungarian note has created the impression that nothing but a display of force can induce the Hungarians to respect their treaty obligations," said the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph. "In the event the troops are required—and that is a contingency which can no longer be ignored—Italy and Czechoslovakia could furnish forces for the allies."

The trouble between Hungary and Austria dates back to the treaty of Trianon which granted Austria territory in West Hungary that Hungary refused to yield. Hungarian irregulars crossed the Austrian frontier and it was reported that from a military movement the activities of the Hungarians were swinging towards the restoration of the Hapsburgs.

BURKE LIKELY TO BE CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR IN FALL

Senator Declares for Right To Initiative and Referendum

Elyria, Sept. 10.—Senator J. F. Burke has announced that under certain conditions he may be a candidate for governor on the Republican ticket next fall, but will not run if some other man declares against emergencies for referendum and other principles that he stands for. He states that the Senator Bender interview a few days ago was unauthorized.

Senator Burke declares for the right of the people to the initiative, referendum and thinks the legislature was misled last session on the so-called Davis emergency bill. He believes the governor should protect the people's right instead of subserving them to his own interest. He declares against special privileges to any class or organization. Efficiency and integrity should be the watchword and social justice should prevail. He declares lawlessness is the great danger to society at the present time. He concludes "in a democracy the truth and fighting for it are more valuable than winning. The man who does so deserves to win whether he loses or not, so that he wins in any case. I am for such a man and I had rather champion his cause as a follower than a leader. I am opposed to no individual, I am going to fight no one. I have no grudges. I would like to see the leaders of our party take a pronounced stand for these matters. The people believe them. They will be with us. Standing for these principles we cannot lose."

OVATION GIVEN CHARLIE CHAPLIN BY THE BRITISH

London, Sept. 10.—A welcome exceeding anything ever given to royal-famous American screen comedian ty was accorded Charlie Chaplin, when he arrived in London today from New York.

The screen star stepped at the cordiality of the tremendous ovation and finally had to be rescued from the immense crowd by a detachment of police.

Despite the large force of police the crowd broke through the barriers when Chaplin arrived at Waterloo station.

Thousands of men, women and children surged forward attempting to embrace the comedian and shake his hand. There were shouts of "Hello, Charlie," and "Don't throw any pie."

Charlie was amazed although he had received an ovation at Cherbourg when the liner Olympic touched that port which gave him a foretaste of what to expect in England—his native land. Charlie stood in the door of the railway car and smiled at his English admirers as they surged around him with shouts and cries of adulation. Then his emotion overcame him and he wept.

BANDITS HOLD UP BANK IN INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 10.—Four men, one believed to be a negro, held up the Beech Grove State Bank, at Beech Grove, shortly before noon yesterday and escaped with $25,000 in cash. Three entered the bank while one waited outside in an automobile. A car believed to have been the one the robbers used was found late this afternoon at Emerson avenue and 14th street, Indianapolis.

A check up at the bank showed that $15,000 of the amount stolen was in $20 bills, $5,000 in $5 and $10 bills and $5,000 in $1 bills. The money was taken from the bank vault, the door of which was open.

The amount of money at the bank was unusually large, it was said, because part of it was to be used as the payroll for the Big Four Railroad shops, at Beech Grove.

Henry C. Schoenrock, cashier, said the loss was covered by insurance.

CONVENTION HELD

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 9.—Delegates from Michigan to Florida are in attendance today at the convention of the Dixie Highway association. Today's session will be given over to entertaining the visitors. A huge auto parade took place this morning, later motoring to Dayton, Ohio.

Changes in routes of the highway will be one of the chief matters to be decided at the convention. Several Kentucky towns are contending for a route through their immediate communities.

NAVAL AUXILIARY IS SUGGESTION OF CONGRESSMAN FESS

The establishment of a naval auxiliary to operate the United States merchant marine during peace time and to train its members in case of emergency is the plan evolved by Congressman S. D. Fess and discussed by him at a meeting of the Noonday Club in the Masonic Temple, Dayton, Friday.

Dr. Fess said the plan will be presented to President Harding when Congress reconvenes. He believes the establishment of such an auxiliary would relieve the government from making further appropriations to maintain the service. The personnel of the naval auxiliary would be made up of enlisted men, according to the Congressman's plan, and with a wage scale that would induce men to enter the service.

"The increase of the activities of the United States merchant flag on the seas is one of the most important factors in naval history," said Dr. Fess. "America never will become a commercial sea power while the merchant marine is continued under the present system. It is not self-supporting and the demands upon the federal treasury for appropriations make it impossible to launch any extensive improvement program."

A better understanding between the laborer and the American business man is necessary, according to Congressman Fess, before this nation can expect to function on a more normal basis. "When this point is reached, he said, the nation must have a competent merchant marine to transport American products to foreign nations to be sold at prices which will compete with foreign made merchandise."

It is Dr. Fess' belief that realization of the tremendous task which faces them has come only to two European countries—Belgium and Germany. The people of Germany are setting themselves to the task of reviving their countries and that country will be the first to regain its status in the commercial world, according to the Congressman.

"The sooner America returns to her pre-war conditions, industrially and commercially, the better it will be for everyone and not until then will 'good times' come," said Dr. Fess in conclusion. During the afternoon, Dr. Fess attended the Montgomery County Fair, returning to his home in Yellow Springs, Friday night.

NAME DELEGATES TO STATE W. C. T. U. MEETING IN MONTH

Delegates to the State W. C. T. U. Convention to be held in October at Toledo, Ohio, were appointed at the meeting of the Xenia W. C. T. U., held at the home of Mrs. John Ary, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Robert Terrell and Mrs. Cora Keller were appointed as delegates, with Mrs. John Dymond and Miss Jennie Thomas, as alternates. Ten delegates to the Greene County Convention of the organization were appointed, at the meeting. The county convention will be held in this city at the Friends church, on Friday, September 15.

Twenty members were present at the meeting held Friday. Following the business meeting, eight members were given the white ribbon of membership into the chapter.

A short program was given during the remainder of the afternoon, papers being read by Mrs. S. J. Whit, Mrs. Cora Keller, Mrs. Ami Yeager and Mrs. Hawkins. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

FISH DESTROYED BY POISON WATER IN FAYETTE COUNTY

Washington, C. H., Sept. 10.—As result of poisonous sewage from this city being carried down stream by recent freshets, thousands of fish have been killed in Paint creek between this city and Rock Bridge, and the stench coming from the dead fish and black waters of the creek has become almost unbearable close to the stream for a distance of several miles south of the city.

It is the belief of Game Protector Frank Hard that virtually every fish in Paint creek from this city to Rock Bridge, with exception of a few carp have succumbed to the effects of the poisonous waters.

Big bass, carp and crawfish are included among the thousands of fish which line the banks or float on the water.

Even the turtles and crawfish had to seek safety by crawling from the water and this they did in large numbers, those remaining behind perishing with the helpless fish.

The first fish were noticed several days ago, when a few dead ones appeared and others were floundering about in a helpless condition endeavoring to reach safety.

As the sewage continued to reach downstream sections by increased flow of water, the numbers of dead fish steadily increased, and finally the poisonous waters became so deadly that fish could no longer live in it.

Game Protector Hard has spent two or three days along the creek and expresses the belief that the long accumulation of sewage and drainage from manufacturing plants in the city have combined to render the water deadly poison to all life in the stream, and that while the condition is not new following the summer months, that it is worse this year than ever before.

The Markets

STOCKS

The duration and significance of the upturn immediately preceding and following the labor holiday has been the subject of much speculation in trading circles. Volume of transactions increased markedly and the upward trend became quite uniform. The summer action of the stock market seemingly indicated that no pronounced revival in business will occur this fall, but traders were probably unduly depressed, failing to take cognizance of basic improvement in conditions. The more important liquidation attendant upon a period of readjustment like the present has undoubtedly ceased, and evidence of better times ahead is steadily accumulating. One prominent operator believes the tide has definitely turned.

GRAIN

The spectacular advance in cotton and the probability that Russian relief would absorb considerable wheat figured largely in the advance of wheat after Labor Day and its appreciation during the week and one half preceding. Prices stand on none too secure a footing after each sharp advance and a setback frequently wipes out much of the gain. Whether wheat is capable of a pronounced and well-sustained advance just now remains a question. The spring crop is admittedly short. On the other hand Canadian wheat, which competes in the export market, reducing the demand for the American product. Later on this country may find itself importing Canadian wheat. Primary arrivals continue heavy and much in advance of last year. The corn crop is maturing fast and most reports are favorable. Oats can hardly go lower and should advance substantially later on.

LIVESTOCK

The old story has been repeated in the livestock market. Cattle and hogs reacted from their extreme declines when receipts fell off. Another flooding of the market will break prices yet again. The customary slump in live mutton during September was anticipated the latter part of August by sharp declines. Live mutton are on an uncertain footing. Cattle prices last year ranged from $13.50 to $17.75 in the main, compared with $5.00 to $10.75 this season. The spread has been the widest of the year. High freight rates are causing farmers to ship to the nearest market, often a market west of Chicago. The demand for stockers henceforth will greatly influence the trend of cattle prices. The bulk of stock cattle is sold at from $5 to $6. Europe has been buying enormous quantities of lamb, but a September break in hogs is not improbable. Western sheep and lambs usually come in excess supply during September and depress prices.

COTTON

The price movement in cotton has been the sensation of the commodity markets. The advance was resumed under active buying after Labor Day. The Liverpool market was strong, which confirmed confidence on this side. How far the rise will go and what effect it will have on the goods market is an interesting question. The American carry over is estimated as 2,591,000 bales more than a year ago, but the crop may fall more than 6,000,000 bales short of last year's. A sharp increase in home and foreign demand might turn the recent surplus into a shortage.

WOOL

Woolen mills are consuming the raw staple at the rate of more than 600,000,000 pounds per year and will consume considerably more wool during the balance of this year than in the corresponding period of 1920. Considerable wool of lower grades has been sold in the Boston market of late relieving the market. Prices hold firm on most grades, although buyers refuse to go higher. It is expected that the market will receive good support during September.

METALS

Further slight improvement is noted in the iron and steel industry, while considerable copper has been sold. Consumers are piling out their rapidly diminishing stock.

AGRICULTURE

The wheat grower is favored with no such opportunity in the way of higher prices as the cotton grower. The predicted short crop of cotton is undoubtedly a boon to the South because of the large carry-over and the subnormal condition of trade. Prices have risen upwards of 50 per cent because the crop promises to be a few million bales below previous estimates.

The world wheat situation appears fairly well balanced, prospective supply meeting prospective demand without a marked deficiency of surplus. Government reports put the quantity of wheat harvested in 20 countries during 1921 at 2,461,000,000 bushels, as compared with 2,334,143,000 bushels last year. Fall sown wheat was not as adversely affected by the long draught throughout the greater part of the Northern hemisphere as was at first supposed. Nearly all northern and central Europe will have larger wheat crops than last year.

Wheat prices in this country should tend upward rather than downward as spring approaches and the farmer should enjoy with a large export outlet. The Interstate Commerce commission has made reductions on freight rates on grain and grain products from western producing areas to seaboard effective immediately.

FINED ON CHARGE

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 9—John Crane 47, East McMicken Avenue, was sentenced to one year's imprisonment and fined $1,000 on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 13 year old girl, by Judge Roettlinger in juvenile court. Crane had been arrested in connection with the disappearance of Freda Hornberger, 9, of whom no trace has been found since she left home some weeks ago to make a purchase at a bakery.

During Crane's examination it developed that he had enticed little girls to his room. Authorities, however, are satisfied he knows nothing of the Hornberger girl.

In sentencing Crane, Judge Roettlinger said he was sorry that the law would not permit him to make it $1 fine and 1,000 years imprisonment.

YELLOW SPRINGS ALLOWS NEW GAS RATE FOR SUPPLY

Action of the village council of Yellow Springs in permitting an increase in rates of the Janssen Gas Company, of Greenview, which serves the community with gas, will result immediately in extension of service by the company, it is said.

The gas company, operating under a rate fixed by council of 40 to 60 cents, went into the hands of a receiver some time ago, and has since refused to install new meters or service lines on request of villages. The company demanded a rate of a minimum of 50 cents and a maximum of 85 cents, which it said was necessary for the company to operate.

An ordinance providing the rate increase asked for was passed by the village council at its last meeting during the absence of Mayor Tom Donnelly. On the Mayor's return, he vetoed the ordinance, saying that the rate asked for is too high.

The village council, backed, it is said, by the sentiment of citizens favoring a higher rate if necessary to obtain gas, and by pressure from the fact that new residents being constructed for Antioch college faculty members would require gas, agreed to meet next Thursday evening and pass the ordinance over the Mayor's veto. Attorney J. A. Finney, of this city, special counsel for the village in the gas case, informed members of the council, Saturday however, that no such action would be necessary as mayors of villages do not have veto powers, and the so-called veto of Mayor Donnelly was invalid. The decision makes the ordinance passed a law, and it will be effective immediately on advertisement.

The ordinance provides for a gas rate in the village of 55 cents for the first 5,000 feet; 60 cents per 5,000 feet for 10,000 feet and so on with an additional five cents on every additional 5,000 feet. The maximum rate is 85 cents per 5,000 feet for all above 35,000 feet.

In passing the ordinance, the village council expressed itself as of the belief that such action was the only means of insuring the village a gas supply this winter. It is also said that residents generally favor the increase in order to have an assured supply.

The Janssen Gas company has a two year contract with the village, expiring in 1923.

CANADA'S DEBT DECLINES

Ottawa, September 10—Canada's debt declined $12,331,576 during August, the Finance Department announced and now totals $2,344,949,085. Compared with a year ago however, the dominion's debt has increased by $90,465,652.

OPTIMISTIC VIEW OF UNEMPLOYMENT SITUATION TAKEN

Washington, Sept. 9.—Officials took a more optimistic view of the unemployment situation today. Indications of a better trend industrially, particularly in agriculture are multiplying.

Secretary Hoover said he was very hopeful that the stimulation in cotton and wheat will extend to other lines that have been stagnant since the price decline started business to sagging.

Others in touch with the fiscal and commercial outlook were equally sanguine that the corner has been turned.

The permanency of these improvements in business in the lines described, it was said, is bound to cut down to some extent some of the present idleness.

Plans went ahead speedily today for a conference on unemployment here. Secretary Hoover today laid the tentative program for the conference before the president and his cabinet.

There are approximately 4,500,000 bread winners out of employment, according to calculations made today from the latest government reports on unemployment.

"In consideration of these figures certain conditions must be kept in mind," said Secretary Davis. "First, they refer to the change in number of persons employed between the peak of operations in 1920 and the present time, ignoring whatever unemployment there may have been in the spring of 1920; second, that the employment was far above normal in the spring of 1920, industries bid for workers; wives, daughters and boys who were not accustomed to work for wages, took up gainful work. Therefore the present recession in employment may mean not entirely unemployment for regular workers but in addition a return of many persons from gainful home work of school."

It is estimated that these people who were "not accustomed to work for wages" numbered about 1,000,000 while the August report of the U. S. employment service showed that 1,428,000 persons usually employing more than 500 workers had 16,269 more employees on their payrolls on Aug. 31 than they carried on July 31.

CORN CROP WILL BE MUCH LARGER

Columbus, Sept. 10.—Ohio's corn crop this year will be approximately 146,400,000 bushels, or 5,400,000 bushels more than the average crop during the last five years, according to the August report, issued yesterday by C. J. West, agricultural statistician for the state. Improved weather conditions brought about a 10-per cent increase in the crop, as compared with its July condition of 74 per cent of normal, West says.

The oats crop this year will be but 50 per cent of the average crop during the last five years, according to reports from farmers. About half an average crop of potatoes will be produced in Ohio this year, West predicts. Present returns indicate a crop of 6,600,000 bushels, he adds.

Tobacco is reported to be in good condition and a crop of 35,000,000 pounds is forecast for Ohio. Hay production this year will be slightly more than the 10-year average, according to West.

WAR VETERAN OUT OF WORK TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCES

Suffered More Since Getting Back From France Than While in Service

BY ALBERT SAVOIE.

(One of Urban Ledoux's "Slaves" Whom He Offered at Auction to the Person Bidding the Best Job at a "Slave" Sale on Boston Commons.)

Boston, Sept. 10.—When I think of the times I have been cold and hungry since I got out of the army, I sometimes wish I had not come back.

I have suffered more since I got back than I did in France, and I was in some of the worst scraps before I got knocked out.

I would rather find a job without all this fuss, but what am I going to do? Yesterday I was in rags, without a place to eat. I went three days at one stretch without food.

I am unable to do heavy work because of a wound received overseas. The government has only paid me $1.20 because of this wound. I was in the army from the day the war started and served two years and three months overseas as a member of the 312th machine gun company.

I have been forced to let my war risk insurance lapse, but if I get a job I will be reinstated. I never thought when I was overseas that I would have to do this when I got home in order to find a way to earn my living. I thought my country owed me a job when I got back but instead I found some one else in my place and they had no room for me.

I am not ashamed to be auctioned off. All I want is a chance to earn my living.

COACHES THIS YEAR AT WILMINGTON

Nowald, is well-known here from his gridiron prowess as a member of the Wilmington high school team last fall. Stephens another high school luminary and others represent the new material available for Wilmington College material this year, and the outlook is particularly bright for a winning eleven.

VESSELS WARNED OF DISTURBANCE

New Orleans, Sept. 10.—Weather bureau officials announced today that a tropical disturbance is central in the Caribbean sea south of Haiti, moving west, northwest and increasing in intensity.

Vessels have been warned to exercise extreme caution in the Caribbean Sea during next 24 hours and in the western Caribbean, especially Sunday.

Reports reaching here by wireless to steamship companies said considerable damage had been done at Port of Spain, where two persons were killed and more than $200,000 damage in the harbor. Other points reported severe damage.

NEW YORK SCHOOLS CRIPPLED FOR ROOM

New York, Sept. 10.—Because of the lack of school buildings, 90,000 children here will do part time work when school reopens Monday. The shortage of facilities has resulted in such makeshifts as portable, flimsy structures, overcrowding of class rooms and part time work. Similar conditions are reported in other cities.

Philadelphia, despite three new school buildings, 30,000 pupils here will be on half time this year because of lack of facilities.

Buffalo—Five thousand children without accommodations and some schools eliminated congestion.

Cleveland—More than 20,000 children in the public schools will receive part time instruction owing to inadequate facilities. Schools open for the year Monday.

RIVERS RETURN TO CLAIM THEIR OWN AT SAN ANTONIO

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 10.—Even as Pueblo, Colo., was built on the deserted bed of a river that returned to claim its ancient course and hundreds of human lives, the business district and many homes of San Antonio was laid out in the bottom of an "earth bowl," corrugated with streams that are shallow and almost still—until today, when rushing waters from the highlands flooded the "bowl" and threatened to wreck vengeance on the hundreds of humans who dared to establish themselves there.

The San Antonio river and its "tributaries," San Pedro and Alazan creeks, "snake" their way through the business section of San Antonio, the course of the streams forming gigantic "S's." The width of the San Antonio river is not more than 50 feet wide in the city proper and before the waters were muddied by surging tidal waves from the highlands the bottom could easily be seen from almost any street in the business section. Probably not more than six or seven feet deep at any point, and as shallow as four feet in many sections, the waters normally appeared as a quiet element whose only object was to lend enchantment to the city, even as the waters of Venice—so quiet and unruffled were they.

Tapping their very banks, which were cemented by the city many years ago in an effort to keep the waters from gradually eating away the channel and creeping into the city streets, the waters were so quiet that normally they never even overlapped their banks.

The heart of the business district of San Antonio is inlaid in crooks of the "S" formed by the San Antonio river and the two creeks. The streams for the most part flow in a "side street" course, the "tops" of the S crooked around through the principal streets. Concrete bridges, all built so low that the surface of the streets are not even ruffled, allow the waters to negotiate the curves.

Many of the business houses which front on the principal streets lie alongside of the "side street" venetian stream so crooked are the lines of the stream. Wings of these buildings in many instances overhang the waters.

To the rear of the principal streets are many so-called town down dwellings, small houses, where for the most part the Mexican and Spanish population of the city is housed.

HOW THE CHEMICAL AND DYE INDUSTRY STANDS TO NATIONAL DEFENSE.

The American people are confronted with a new problem, which may be called the dye problem, although much more is involved. It is often difficult to see a new problem as such, and in the present instance not only some of our lawmakers, but certain manufacturers as well, have failed fully to comprehend that there is something unlike anything we have had to solve heretofore.

Sir William Pope retiring president of the Society of Chemical Industry, declared recently in an address at the annual convention of his society in Montreal that chemical agencies will be the sole factor in deciding future wars. In support of his statement he revealed that when the armistice came in the world war a gas had been perfected against which respirators were of no avail. It was effective, he said, when present in the air in a proportion of one part to five millions.

A statement such as this, coming from such a source, must be taken as authoritative, and its authority applies in two directions. One is as an argument for disarmament. It has often been said that disarmament, as a step looking to the abolition of war between the great Powers, would be brought about logically by a realization that modern developments in warfare will transform the field from a field of destruction to a field of annihilation. That is one of the most convincing arguments that can be brought against the settling of national differences through the time-honored method of making war.

But that principle has not yet been as universally accepted as it probably will be some day. So we must look at Sir William Pope's disclosure in the light of our being one of the nations not yet relieved from the necessity of war preparedness. As such it furnishes an obvious moral. That moral is that the United States must keep herself in a condition to develop just as strong a system of chemical warfare as any other nation. To do that we must, of course, give every possible encouragement to our chemical industries. The dye industry is one of the most important of these. The war brought about the development of this industry in the United States, where we had previously been entirely dependent for its products upon Germany. Now that the war is over, there is a movement in some directions to create tariff conditions that would mean the abandonment of this industry. At present it is protected by an embargo against foreign dyes which will continue in force until the new tariff bill disposes of the question finally in one form or another. The final disposition should be the effective protection of the American dye industry. Such protection is valid on economic grounds; but the disclosures of Sir William Pope give convincing proof that it is even more valid on the ground of the national safety and defense.

HOW CHINA FEELS TOWARDS THE UNITED STATES.

President Harding's invitation to China to participate in the forthcoming conference of the nations in Washington has struck a most responsive chord in the hearts of all Chinese and China is content to rest her case with American fair play, Dr. Sao-Ke Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States, declared in an address before the Foreign Trade Club of Baltimore. Dr. Sze said America has a destiny in the Far East.

"Here in the United States as merchants and manufacturers you have learned the value of good will as a business asset," Dr. Sze said. "Out in China you have an asset of good will that extends throughout the length and breadth of the republic. I can do no better than quote your own commercial attaché in China, Mr. Arnold, in the statement that the word 'American' is an open passport throughout China. We do not have to go far in finding the reason.

"We have American altruism and disinterestedness toward China typified in your open-door policy; in your return of the surplus of the Boxer indemnity, which has enabled us to educate thousands of our best young men and women in your institutions of higher education; and, later on, in your interest in our troubles pertaining to Shantung, our sacred province and birthplace of our civilization; and, still more in the present, the invitation of President Harding to China to participate in the conference on Pacific-Far Eastern problems.

"You gave your life blood and much of your treasure in freeing Cuba from foreign domination. Then you gave a great deal more of your treasure in helping Cuba to get on her feet. You eliminated famine and disease from the island. You helped the Cuban people to establish a government of their own. Then you got out of Cuba bag and baggage and returned the land to its own people.

"You did not quibble about getting out. You did not ask the Cubans to repay you for the whole cost of the war which resulted in their liberation. You didn't even ask them to repay you for making their country sanitary and healthy. Now you always stand ready to help them when they are in trouble.

"I assure you this lesson is not lost to the world. It is a living force. China wants to trade with this kind of a customer, a customer who believes that both sides gain in an honest business transaction and who cherishes no ulterior designs of political domination."

BRAVERY AND HEROISM OF A WOMAN WIN HIGH HONORS.

Mrs. Mabel Willebrandt, an Assistant Attorney General of the United States, is the finest example of the value for success of such qualities as devotion loyalty and the will to win in this world. Mrs. Willebrandt was reared in a village in Michigan. She qualified as a teacher in the local schools at the age of eighteen. She married shortly after. Her husband's health failed almost immediately. He had an ambition to become a lawyer and his wife shared this ambition with him. She desired to study law and practice in partnership with her husband. The failure of his health was a severe blow to their ambitions. This forced the couple to go to Arizona, hoping that the climate would help him to recovery. They had no more means than necessary to arrive in that State.

Mrs. Willebrandt got a school and began teaching. As the couple located near the Temple Normal School Mrs. Willebrandt entered this school. Nothing seemed to dampen her ardor nor to thwart her from the plan she had set out upon for saving her husband and educating herself. She was the most dramatically heroic student.

She graduated in June and located as superintendent of a village school near Pasadena. She was only twenty-three. Her success was immediate. She was elected to the principalship of a ward school in Pasadena the next year and then duplicated the success of the previous year. Her husband was again studying law. She studied with him. In about two years both were ready for the bar examination. Of course they passed and an office was opened in Los Angeles.

The opening skirmish as to the abolishment of the saloon in Xenia will take place tomorrow night, the anti-saloon ordinance to be introduced being in the hands of Mr. L. M. Garfield of the First Ward. While no decisive action is at all probable the opening of the ball will be looked upon with interest.

Several Greene county horses went in the races at the Madison county fair at London, yesterday and the showing made by them was watched by a number of enthusiastic Xenians. The honors of the day were won by Jim Lee, owned by W. B. Bryson.

A class of eight was taken in by the local lodge of Elks last night. Chief of Police Smith is now a member of the organization and Officer McCallister accompanied him through the mysteries of the initiation.

Mr. Harry Whitmer is again back at his desk in the office of McGervey and LeSourd, having enjoyed a few days' vacation on a visit with relatives in Shelby county.

Mr. Martin Davis who has been connected with the Adair furniture store, purchased the Breen grocery, and took charge this morning. Mart will feel at home in the grocery business having for a number of years been a clerk at Norckauer's.

Mr. Isaac Emery and wife returned last night from their wedding tour in the West. The couple has gone to housekeeping on High street, their home being suitably fitted up for their occupancy.

REDUCING

Last week we were talking about the way to reduce. First find out what you weigh which you can do, of course, on any pair of scales, then find out what you should weigh. This of course, is more difficult but there are many pairs of scales have little tables of weights and measures on them. These are compiled by insurance companies and are thoroughly reliable, the only thing is that their allowance of weight is very generous. If the table says that for your height and age you should weigh 145 you can be moderately certain that good health and looks will be yours at 135 pounds.

If you cannot find one of these charts send me a letter with self-addressed stamped envelope and I will send you a copy of mine, which was gotten up by the Government during the war.

The only thing left is to find out how much you are eating and how much you should eat. You can guess at this if you want, but the best way is to do it scientifically, and for that you should have a knowledge of calories.

Calories are not as complicated as they sound. They are nothing at all but a unit of measure. They have exactly the same relation to food that a yard stick or a ruler, has to feet and inches. A yard stick measures distance, calories measure food value. Calories are only a means of making the subject simple.

If you are gaining weight or if you are maintaining too much weight you are eating too many calories. Therefore you will reduce if you eat fewer calories.

Next week we will talk about the specific number.

Miss M. F. :-Soft kid curlers will not stop the hair from growing.

Reader:-The electric needle will do away with the mole, but it may take successive treatments to eradicate the mole.

E. D. :-Your system lacks something and that accounts for the thin nails. It may be lime, but your doctor should be consulted. The yellow spots on the face come from a sluggish liver and they will disappear when you correct this condition.

Margaret :-You always rise when being introduced to a lady who is older, or one who has acquired distinction in any way. To a group, who is standing, you would also do this. You are much more sure of being correct if you make a habit of rising and greeting each person who is being introduced to you, than if you retain your seat and merely give a cold recognition. There is something about the former, that puts the friendship on a basis of cordiality, which is a great help to your hostess.

Letters To The Editor

Editor The Gazette and The Republican:-A letter to the Editor of the Gazette in Thursday's issue states that there are but three "actual veterans" of the Civil War in Greene county, describing as veterans those who enlisted for their second term. All three, John Hedges, John Seidomridge and George Moore being members of the 74th O. V. I. Mr. Hedges holds the record for the longest term of service, that of 1263 days.

The facts are we know of one more and perhaps there are a dozen others. Lew Whitman enlisted in the 6th Independent Ohio Cavalry, Sept. 21, 1861, for three years, or during the war. Two years and six months later he was again mustered into service for three years, or during the war, and on the 4th day of February 1866, discharged from service, having served continuously 4 years, 5 months, 13 days or a total of 1623 days.

True, he has not been furnished with a "bronzed medal" not even a leather medal, but the records of the War Department at Washington, D. C. will verify the above statement. The writer of this don't wish to detract from the honors of the three "Actual Veterans" but let's be fair. A VETERAN.

AGE AND BITTERNESS.

Too many men, when they grow old, are prone to sit around and scold, and view things with alarm; they spend the long hours heaving sighs, and everything that meets their eyes is void of worth and charm. I too am old and oft I feel so tough I'd to raise a spile of sorrow and dismay; distressed by rheumatism and gout, I'd like to tell the world about a golden yesterday. But when I take my lyre in hand, to celebrate a past long-canned, I feel that I am wrong; the world is still a fine resort; the fact that makes me kick and snort is that I've lived so long. The world is right side up with care, and old men shouldn't tear their hair, and say it's slipping coqs; it still rolls on around the sun, and girls and boys who have their fun aren't going to the dogs. We all admire the fine old guy who views the people going by, and views them with a grin, who joins the laughter of the young, and doesn't sprain a withered lung to prove that mirth's a sin. But if an ancient gent is sore and sits beside his cottage door to prove all things are wrong, he finds he has a lonesome job, for no one cares to hear a sob when he can hear a song.

SOLDIER INJURED AS TRUCK BACKS INTO HIS MACHINE

Frank Brown, soldier from Wilbur Wright Field, Fairfield, received painful injuries in a collision of two army trucks on the Fairfield pike, four miles from Xenia, at 11 o'clock Friday night.

Brown was brought to the McClellan hospital in this city, where Dr. B. R. McClellan found his injuries consisted of a puncture wound of the left leg and a fracture of one bone in the leg, a severe contusion over the left hip and a severe injury to the abdomen on the right side. An X-Ray of man's injuries was taken Saturday morning before the hospital unit at the Field returned the man to the Field hospital in an army ambulance.

Brown was the driver on one of two army trucks returning to Wright Field from Camp Sherman, with a quantity of plumbing fixtures and heavy heating material, and its brakes refusing to work, it backed down on the truck driven by Brown. A companion with Brown on the seat of the truck, jumped and saved himself, but the driver was pinned behind the steering wheel. He was brought to this city immediately. His wounds will not prove serious

EXPECT SLACKERS WILL FILL PRISONS OF UNITED STATES

Leavenworth, Kansas. — The "slackers" of the World War are soon to receive the inevitable sentences that military justice demands.

Eight men, who were convicted of draft evasion and who hail from all sections of the Central West, are now serving time at the disciplinary barracks at Leavenworth. These eight men are the first of a long list who are expected to be punished.

The sentences of the men range from one to five years at hard labor. The court-martial awards are being carried out to the "letter" in regard to the imprisoned slackers. Some are working on the prison farm; others are building roads, and the rest are laboring in the barracks shops.

"By the latter part of September," one officer said, "we expect a steady stream of convicted draft evaders from all parts of the United States east of the Rockies."

Names appearing on the lists of draft dodgers which are being issued by various army posts throughout the country, are being carefully checked by Government agents who are working in conjunction with army officers to put the army slackers in "the city of silent men." That a steady stream of convicted slackers in "the city of silent men." That States disciplinary barracks at Leavenworth, Kansas, and to Alcatraz California, by the latter part of September was the prediction of army officers gathered at the Officers' Club here.

CAUTION IS EXERCISED

The necessity for carefulness in checking the War Department list of draft dodgers explains the numerous delays in the prosecution of certain cases according to barracks officers.

"Although we exercise extreme care in checking these lists, we oftentimes make mistakes," one officer said. "Already several names of war heroes have crept into the lists through errors."

Although the "red tape" connected with the prosecution of slackers sometimes makes the cases "drag," their conviction is certain. The draft evader is given no loophole to escape. His record is investigated thoroughly and he is brought before a court-martial or into a Federal court, according to circumstances under which he evaded service. Convicted he is sentenced usually to a term of from one to five years at hard labor at one of the disciplinary barracks or a Federal Penitentiary.

Generally speaking, men who evaded registration during the draft period, or otherwise proved themselves legal slackers before induction into the army, face Federal charges. It was explained. Those registered for the draft who failed to appear for service when summoned must stand court-martial.

Numerous lists of slackers in the Southwest have been issued from Fort Crook, Omaha, Nebraska, headquarters for the Seventh Corps Area of the United States Army, and Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas.

500 PRISONERS AT FORT JAY

Word has been received by the officer commanding the Leavenworth disciplinary barracks that 500 military prisoners from the Army of Occupation in Germany and from various parts of the United States and possessions are being held at Fort Jay, Governors Island, New York, awaiting transportation to serve sentences in the military prisons throughout the country. Many will be received at the Leavenworth barracks it was said.

Public sentiment is growing steadily in favor of the drastic measures taken against the slackers, according to army officers and officials of the American Legion. The American Legion has voiced itself as willing to have the complete list of evaders published in spite of the temporary embarrassment which occasionally occurs through errors in this particular.

COULD HARDLY STRAIGHTEN UP

When the kidneys are overworked or disordered and fail to throw out waste matter from the system, it causes aches, pains, lame back, swollen ankles, sore joints, dizziness, floating specks, etc. J. W. Seaback, Chester, Pa., writes: "My kidneys and back hurt me so when I got out of bed in the morning I could hardly straighten up. Had to rub the small of my back before I could walk. I could hardly button my shoes. I haven't felt the soreness since I took Foley Kidney Pills. Sayre & Hemphill."

The two following little suppers are of the "quick" variety, where canned fish rather than fresh fish is a convenience.

Tuna-Potato Baked Dish ..
Cocoa Date Cup Cakes

Tuna-Potato Baked Dish: Cut cold boiled potatoes in large chunks, and put these in the bottom of buttered baking dish or casserole. Make a cream sauce in the ordinary way (a cup of sweet milk thickened a little with flour, while boiling up, and seasoned with salt, pepper and butter) and put the contents of 1 can of tuna fish in this. When the fish is hot, pour it and the sauce over the potatoes in the baking dish. The sauce will drop around the potatoes and the fish stay on top.) Cover with buttered bread crumbs and slip the dish into a hot oven. It is ready to serve when the crumbs are brown and the dish well heated through.

Scalloped Salmon
Dark Chocolate Layer Cake
Scalloped Salmon (contributed by a reader): "Cover the bottom of a buttered baking dish with bread crumbs. Pick over and make fine one can of salmon and mix with half of it 1-2 cup of bread crumbs; put this part that is mixed with the bread crumbs into the baking dish, pour over it some of the dressing given below, then mix the rest of the salmon also with bread crumbs (1-2 cup) and add this to the dish, once more pouring on some of the dressing. Spread buttered crumbs over all, moisten them with 4 table-spoons of milk and a few bits of butter, and bake in a slow oven for 1 hour."

BLIND GRADUATE OF HARVARD WILL TEACH IN CHINA

Robert Pruitt was stricken blind on his tenth birthday while at play with a number of Chinese schoolboys in the American Mission Compound at Hwangshien, Shantung Province, where he was born. A blow on the head produced paralysis of the optic nerves. That was thirteen years ago. Today, as a bachelor of arts, of Harvard, where he was graduated recently, Mr. Pruitt is returning to China with a plan to establish a school for the blind in connection with the Chinese College at Hwangshien. His parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Pruitt, formerly of Youngstown, Ohio, have been stationed in Hwangshien for many years.

THE NEW GENERATION

THE NEW GENERATION

By Jane Phelps

MARGARET ENVIES JOAN HER COURAGE
CHAPTER 34

Joan introduced her mother to the three or four boys and girls waiting for her, then with many "oh's" and "ah's" she plunged into the surf. There was nothing cowardly about Joan Hayden, either morally or physically. After the first moment or two she was jumping the waves like an old-timer, instead of a novice. Margaret knew she would not be as brave, and a sort of grudging admiration of her child filled her mind. Suddenly she knew why she felt as she did; why she grudging Joan her bravery. It was because of her youth which is always courageous. Courageous because it does not realize danger.

Margaret wished she did not realize danger—not as applied to the ocean particularly, but to everything in life. She longed inexpressibly to feel careless of results, to be reckless of what people—unconsciously it was people as represented by Joan—thought or said. Sitting on the beach under her sober-colored parasol she looked about her and thought her life had all been like this. All the other onlookers were shaded by gay inconsequential shades: rose, lavender, light blue and white. Her life had been somber always; like her sunshade. She had not even been an onlooker to gaiety. She thought as she gazed at the laughing, shouting group in the water.

And she had led this gray, dull-colored life from choice. "How could I have done it?" she said aloud. Yet she had been happy, she mused, happy until she began to realize she had wasted her youth; to long for the vanished years to come again that she might relive them. "May I enjoy the shade with you..."

her knowing it. I never have interfered with her in anything. She has been absolutely free."

"And you have renounced your youth, your pleasure, to do this." Forrester returned.

"No. It was a pleasure. Not until Joan was old enough to get a bit away from me; to be taken up with her young friends, was I at all lonely." Margaret did not know how much she was admitting to this keen man of the world. She had told him little yet he visioned all.

"We must see that you are lonely no longer," was all he said, however.
